

Majority Of Meat Packers May Not Work For Uncle Sam

(By The Associated Press)

The government will operate the nation's billion dollar meat industry beginning at 12:01 a. m. tomorrow in an emergency move to restore meat to the nation's tables.

But, as final arrangements for the takeover ordered by President Truman were being completed, there was no assurance that the CIO packinghouse workers, comprising 75 per cent of the 250,000 out in the strikebound industry, would return to work.

Government fact-finders plan to make wage recommendations quickly for 263,000 packinghouse workers, it was learned today.

A high government official who would not be named disclosed the fact-finding board's schedule calls for announcement of findings "within a week"—paving the way for possible federally-sponsored pay raises.

55,000 Accept Edict

AFL leaders ordered their 55,000 striking members to call off the walkout, stating the union "can not and must not distrust" Mr. Truman.

CIO leaders, however, were non-committal of the AFL action and said their decision would be announced only after two meetings today—one of 200 officers of union locals and one of rank and file members.

The seizure will place the Agriculture Department in direct charge of 134 plants, owned by 19 packing companies and all closed since a walkout 10 days ago over wage demands.

Gayle G. Armstrong, a New Mexico rancher and deputy administrator of the Agriculture Department's production and marketing administration, will operate the industry.

The AFL union declared what it termed "a temporary truce," which would last "at least until we know what the fact-finding commission (now holding public hearings in Chicago) will recommend."

Steel Affects Others

Federal seizure is the second and largest in administration attempts to resolve post-war strikes, which at present involve 1,710,000 workers. The navy still is operating 33 of the 53 oil plants and refineries it took over Oct. 4 in a wage dispute. Workers involved numbered 25,000.

The five-day old walkout of 750,000 CIO steel workers will force the layoff of 15,000 employees at the Ford Motor company tonight, the company reported, and it said 25,000 additional workers would be affected in a week.

The giant steel strike, biggest single industrial dispute in the nation's history, which showed no indications of approaching settlement, threatened to involve thousands of other workers in allied industries.

Motor Strike Deadlocked

President Truman reiterated his solution of the steel dispute—granting an 18 1/2 cent raise—and said he did not contemplate federal seizure of the industry at this time.

The 65-day General Motors strike, making idle some 200,000 workers, remained deadlocked on 30 per cent wage increase demands.

The UAW-CIO continued wage negotiations with Chrysler and Ford yesterday.

A mediation meeting in New York in the strike of 200,000 CIO electrical workers against General Electric, Westinghouse and General Motors was recessed temporarily and Arthur S. Meyer, one of the arbitrators, said additional information would be collected before negotiations were reopened. Workers struck Jan. 15 in support of demands for a $2 a day wage increase.

Mother Saves Babe But Perishes In Fire

Philadelphia, Jan. 25 (AP)—Walter Hollowell, 20, and his wife, Ardeth, 21, were burned to death in their Willow Grove home early today but before she died, the young mother swathed her infant daughter in blankets and pushed her out a window to safety.

The baby slid down a snow-covered porch roof and dropped 12 feet to the ground unhurt. Mrs. Hollowell apparently lost her life when she turned back to try to rouse her unconscious husband.

Four members of the family on the first floor were awakened by a passerby who saw the flames and were able to escape.

Jap Commandant Sentenced To Hang

Yokohama, Jan. 25 (AP)—Scholarly Kaichi Hirate, government librarian who became commandant of a prisoner of war camp, was convicted today and sentenced to be hanged for responsibility in the deaths of four British and Dutch soldiers.

Hirate appeared surprised as Col. Oliver E. Trechter, president of the military commission which convicted him, read the verdict. He was convicted of every charge except one—misappropriation of Red Cross supplies.

M'CLELLAN IS PRESIDENT OF VET FIREMEN

George A. McClellan, one of the founders of the present Gettysburg fire company when it was reorganized in 1899, was named president of the Veteran Volunteer Firemen's association Thursday night.

The election was held following the ninth annual banquet of the association which numbers as its members men who have been active firemen with the Gettysburg company for more than a decade. He succeeded James B. Aumen, another of the eight surviving members of the original reorganized fire company.

Before calling the roll of the organizers of the Veterans' group, the firemen voted that as long as the original members live they shall be called upon to head the organization. The election marked the second time Mr. McClellan has held the presidential chair. He was the second president. First president of the Veteran firemen was C. Ray Rupp, named when the then 11 remaining members of the original reorganization of the local fire company met in 1938 to organize as the Veterans' association.

Other Officers

The original members include Mr. McClellan, Donald C. Stallsmith, Mr. Rupp, Maurice Miller, Charles E. Zeigler and Mr. Aumen, all of whom were present for Thursday's dinner. C. Tyson Tipton and Robert H. Long.

Mr. Zeigler was elected vice president and S. Richard Eisenhart was named secretary-treasurer. Eight members of the local fire company who have served for 10 or more years were elected as members of the veterans group. They included Walter Crouse, Ed Myers, Paul Oylar, Donald Jacobs, Raymond Bising, George Bushman, Richard Cole and Dorsey Robert.

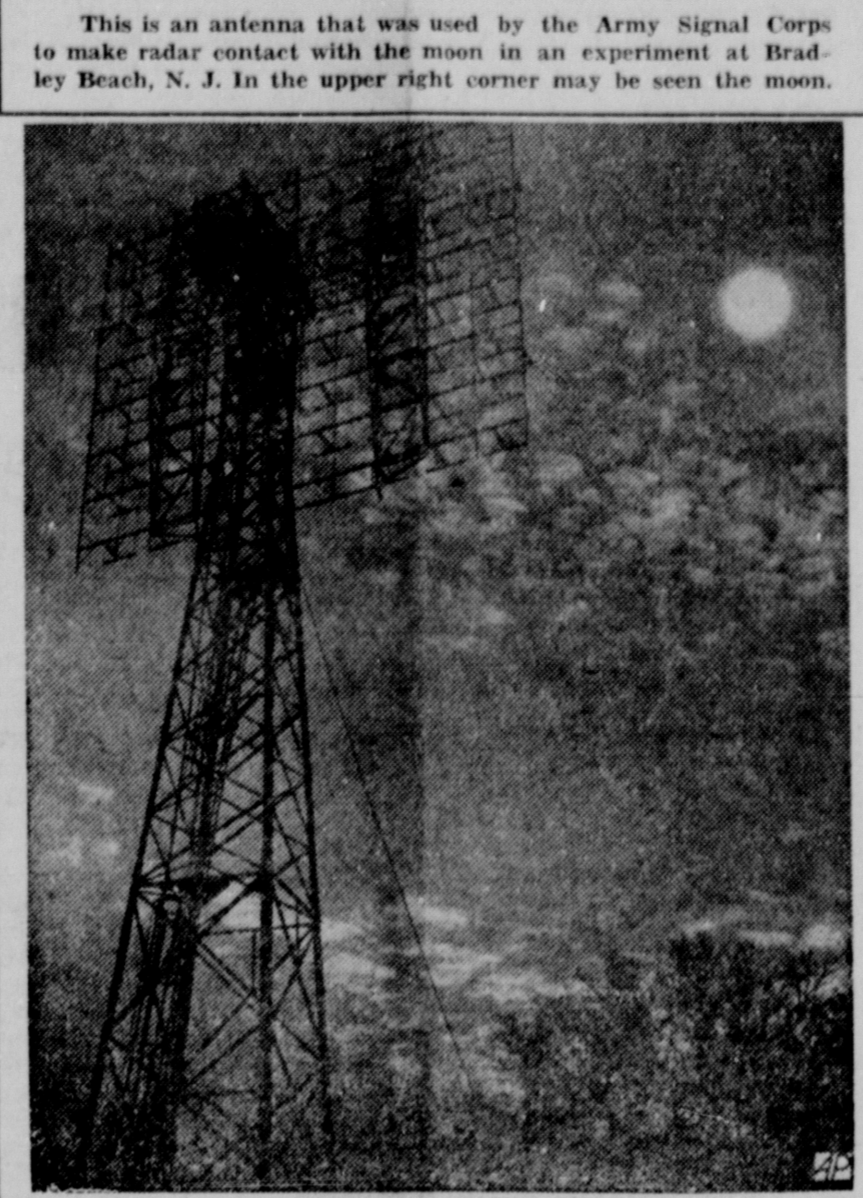

The members rose and stood silent for one minute in memory of Thomas J. Hardy, a member who died during the year. A number of firemen who served in the armed forces during World War II were guests at the dinner which was held at the Blue Parrot tea room. Fifty attended.

Radar Antenna Used In Moon Experiment

This is an antenna that was used by the Army Signal Corps to make radar contact with the moon in an experiment at Bradley Beach, N. J. In the upper right corner may be seen the moon.

Radar Contact With Moon Is Established By Army

Washington, Jan. 25 (AP)—The army today claimed the world's first scientific contact with the moon in a Jules Verne feat which spanned 238,000 miles of outer space by radar.

Government astronomers said the achievement might lead to the answer of the age-old question whether any form of life exists on the moon.

Another possibility was that it might usher in radio control for super-range jet or rocket projectiles which could be kept hovering ominously above the earth in the stratosphere.

The War Department reported that the results of the experiment promise "valuable peacetime as well as wartime applications." Far-roving space ships were listed as one of the "less likely" applications.

Round Trip In 2 1/2 Seconds

The first radar contact with the moon was made Jan. 10, it was disclosed, and the feat has been successfully repeated several times since.

The experiment has been carried out by Signal Corps scientists, working at the Evans Signal Laboratory at Belmar on the New Jersey coastline. The army released the first details of it last night.

It took only two and a half seconds, the report revealed, for a radar echo to bounce back from the moon, normally about 238,857 miles distant from the earth.

SEEK SCHOOL HEALTH DATA IN THIS AREA

The school division of the Pennsylvania Department of Health today asked for reports of the health service in Adams county schools as a step toward the opening of the new school health program, under the state's direction, here.

The questionnaires, to be returned to John W. German, Jr., chief of the school division, were being sent out today by the Adams county school superintendent's office to secretaries of school boards in the 32 Adams county districts.

"We are endeavoring to get the school health program under way so that we can take care of fourth class districts where we have the available personnel and facilities," said a letter to Dr. Robert A. Bream, assistant county superintendent, from Mr. German. He said that in setting up the program, the state would try to make it continuous, so that once it is organized, it will continue the next year without any additional authorization.

Must File Report

School districts are required, by state law, to submit a report of health service. "The prompt return of the report will insure early action on this program for your district," Mr. German's letter said.

Information is sought on number of pupils, number of teachers, number of bus drivers and other employees, name and address of school nurse, dental hygienist, space for examinations, and whether the district conducts dental, ocular, medical or surgical clinics.

State Orchardists Told Of Local Work

The results of experiments on Adams county farms during the last year were presented for the guidance of orchard owners throughout the state Thursday at the annual meeting of the State Horticultural society at Harrisburg.

Dr. Fred Lewis and Harold Steiner of the Arendtsville Fruit Research laboratory were the speakers at the state meet and reported on their findings in control of insects and diseases in 10 major experiments on county farms and continuing tests in 25 other orchards.

Doctor Lewis spoke on control of apple scab, cedar rust, brown rot and similar plant diseases while Mr. Steiner outlined control measures for the peach borer, plum curculio, mites and codling moth as tried during the last growing season here. Some control measures other than the use of insecticides were also outlined.

Senior Extension Club At Meeting

A. O. Rasmussen, State College horticulturist, outlined plans for beautifying the home grounds on farms Thursday night at a meeting of the county Senior Extension group at the court house.

Using slides to illustrate his talk on ornamental horticulture, Mr. Rasmussen pointed out how much can be done to improve the appearance of farm homes with little effort. Shrubbery, clever small signs stating the name of the owner, and flowers were among the "instruments" that can change a home grounds into a thing of beauty" listed by Mr. Rasmussen.

Twenty-seven members of the club, which includes men and women between the ages of 18 and 30 attended. The next meeting will be held February 28 in the Bendersville Community center. The program will be announced later.

Mrs. Abdel Ross Wentz, president, who met with the Finance committee, expressed the hope that town and county residents would continue to give their support to the Y. W. C. A., as more extensive work for the youth can be done with a professional director in attendance.

COPS HAVE NEW TICKET SUPPLY

A new supply of traffic violation tickets was in the hands of borough police today, after the officers ran out of tickets Thursday. There was only one book of 50 tickets left when the meters were placed in operation, and no new ones were ordered until after the first of the year, Burgess C. A. Helges said today.

This week has seen the issuance of more tickets for meter violations than at any time since the meters were installed. The burgess said two tickets were turned in to him early this week; 26 on Wednesday, and 15 Thursday. In addition, four were turned in to Borough Treasurer John H. Basehore.

The old tickets listed 12 violations, parking meter violation not included. The new ones, received today, include this charge. They designate the burgess and Mr. Basehore as persons to receive fines. Justice Basehore, however, is not to act as "court" but only to receive fines.

Mr. Helges said that all of those who have received tickets for violations this week have paid fines of $1 each.

Franco

Franco Hints Spanish People Aspire to closer ties with U. S.

(This is the second of two columns on Generalissimo Francisco Franco by Dewitt MacKenzie, to whom the chief of the Spanish state has just given an interview.)

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
AP World Traveler

Madrid, Jan. 25 — There are several conclusions which I have reached regarding Chief of State Franco, both from general observations and from my unusual interview with him at the Pardo palace, and they are these:

He knows the goal for which he is headed. He believes that he is on the right road for the good of Spain. (Indeed I've heard it said that he feels he was predestined to lead the nation) he is a man of granite convictions from which it is difficult to move him.

Bitter Exceptions

Now those are points which we must understand in order to arrive at a correct appraisal of El Caudillo's actions. Of course, the United States and other countries have taken bitter exception to many of the policies he has pursued. There was the Potsdam declaration which decreed that the Franco regime rendered Spain unsuitable to participate in the United Nations organization. And I had the temerity to tell him during our interview:

"The people of the United States have fought a great war against Nazism and Fascism. Thousands of our boys have died for this cause. Rightly or wrongly the American public feels that Spain was in effect an ally of Germany and Italy, and finds it hard to forgive that."

As I reported in yesterday's column, the generalissimo declared categorically that he neither subscribed to nor supported Nazi and Fascist policies or political views. Well, naturally, that leaves a lot unanswered, but I have a strong feeling that he is very desirous of re-establishing good relations with the United States and Britain.

Changing Policy

There is small doubt, as I see it, that Spain is orienting its policy toward the United States and England. I told Generalissimo Franco the impression prevailed abroad that this was so, and asked for his comment. His reply, while couched in cautious terms which might be described as indirect lighting, would seem to confirm that idea. This is the way he put it:

"Neither during the Spanish National Movement (Civil war of 1936-39) nor after it did the Spanish government cease taking care of its relations with the United States and Great Britain, and even in those moments of the war when the passions and errors of others could have made those relations suffer, Spain sought to avoid those dangers with its serenity and good faith."

"You will understand that the situation of Spain was not easy. It had to defend its independence, which was threatened by the needs of the belligerents, and conserve at the same time the peace and friendship of all nations."

RUSSIA NAMES PARTICIPANTS FOR JAP TRIALS

Tokyo, Jan. 25 (AP)—Russia, France and the Netherlands today joined the international tribunal that will try Japan's top war crimes suspects, including Hideki Tojo, Japanese premier at the war's beginning.

Announcement of their participation ended weeks of uncertainty during which only the United States, China and four members of the British empire had participated in preparations for the trials, which may start in March.

All nine signatories to the surrender of Japan aboard the Missouri September 2 thus will take part in the trials of Tojo, his Pearl Harbor cabinet and other top flight Japanese, said Joseph B. Keenan, chief U. S. prosecutor.

MacArthur Surprised

Empire representatives are Great Britain, Canada, Australia and New Zealand.

A radio from Moscow that she had named a judge and an associate prosecutor came as a distinct surprise to General MacArthur's headquarters. Keenan recently said Russia's continued silence "makes it look pretty certain Russia won't come in."

Russia named a major general to sit in judgment on the Japanese and a man described as director of judicial science to be an assistant prosecutor, but their names were garbled in the cable to allied headquarters.

ATOMIC BOMB TEST TO COST HALF BILLION

Washington, Jan. 25 (AP)—The test of the A-bomb versus the modern warship stacked up today as a proposition that will cost close to a half billion dollars, if not more.

The exact amount was impossible to calculate, but navy figures supplied an indication of what would be involved in the forthcoming atomic experiment in the Pacific.

This is what they show: It cost $230,000,000 alone for the hulls and engines of the 47 U. S. combat units assigned to the guinea pig fleet.

It cost more than $100,000,000 more for the navy transports which make up about half of the 47 non-combat types which also will be targets.

"Value Tops Costs"

Moreover, navy men have estimated unofficially that the operating expenses involved in staging the experiment next spring will run approximately $100,000,000. The pay of personnel and cost of supplies would boost that total.

No estimates are available on the one German and two Japanese warships that will be used in the test, but all are of the most costly types.

The hull-and-engine costs are but a part of the total outlay for the U. S. warships, but no figures could be obtained on the expense of armament and fittings that boost the final cost total. On the other hand, the ships will be stripped of much of their guns and fittings for the tests.

Vice Admiral W. H. P. Blandy, commander of the experiment, told a press conference "the value of the experiments will be greater than the cost," adding the information to be obtained toward shaping the national defense to the atomic era would be of incalculable worth to the country's future.

PARTIAL ACCORD ON ARMY PLAN

Washington, Jan. 25 (AP)—General Dwight D. Eisenhower's call for 250,000 new draftees by July 1 won a conditional endorsement Thursday on Capitol Hill.

The special Senate investigators of the demobilization tempest reported that prospective selectees plus volunteers could ensure the 1,500,000-man army which Eisenhower insists is essential to carry out commitments after mid-year.

The army Chief of Staff emphasized when he testified before the inquiry that only if the lagging draft "is able to provide the 50,000 men per month we are asking for will the 1,500,000-man army be guaranteed under our present discharge policy."

The Senate Military Subcommittee recommended continuing "the rate of demobilization of the past few months." It also was of the opinion that the current recruiting drive would produce more volunteers than army estimates, thereby reducing the number of draftees required.

The report filed by the subcommittee yesterday advocated the discharge of all fathers in the army by July 1, except volunteers—something Eisenhower testified could be done.

The preliminary approval of the plan for bringing the army up to postwar strength with increased draft levies in the ensuing five months evidently did not take into account strong sentiment in Congress to let Selective Service die when the present law expires May 15.

Says Rail Strike Can Be Avoided

Miami, Fla., Jan. 25 (AP)—AFL leaders connected with the railroad industry expressed the opinion Thursday that a general nation-wide rail strike would be averted despite the threat of two brotherhoods to walk out.

The Brotherhood of Railroad trainmen has announced preparations to conduct a strike vote in about three weeks and the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers has threatened to follow suit.

Neither of these groups, numbering less than 300,000 members, is affiliated with the American Federation of Labor, but the AFL does have in its midst the Railroad Shop Crafts and one operating union, the switchmen.

One top railroad union official in a position to know the plans of other unions which have not yet committed themselves on the strike issue, said: "We're not thinking of such a thing—at least not at the moment."

POSTPONED HEARING

Harrisburg, Jan. 25 (AP)—The Dauphin county court postponed today until February 14 hearing of testimony in a suit seeking to restrain the Commonwealth from purchasing the Sunbury toll bridge until it is ascertained that $7,000,000 is sufficient to buy the remaining ten toll spans in the state.

Gresh, St. James Lutheran pastor, officiating. Interment in Greenmount cemetery at Arendtsville. The pallbearers were Frank Stallsmith, Earl Jacoby, Curvin Redding and Donald Weikert.

Upper Communities

The Peter Pan Players club of Biglerville high school held a meeting Thursday evening at the home of Mrs. Ann Tilton, Flora Dale, with 15 members present. The project for the evening was the study of make-up. Miss Lena Boyer, faculty adviser, met with the group.

Donald Tyson, Gardner R. D., is attending the state farm show in Harrisburg this week.

Mrs. Fred Bianchi, Margate, N. J., has returned home after spending several days with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Starner and family, Aspers R. 1.

Frank Hewelson, of the staff of the state research laboratory, Arendtsville, attended the farm show in Harrisburg this week.

At a joint meeting of the councils of St. Paul's Lutheran church, Biglerville, and Bender's Lutheran church, Thursday evening at the parsonage, Rowe Martin, of St. Paul's church, was elected president, and Donald Lady, of Bender's church, secretary. The members were guests of the Rev. and Mrs. Henry W. Sternat for the evening.

Miss Hannah Mary Miller, Pittsburgh, a student at Gettysburg college, is a week-end guest of Mrs. U. S. Kleinfelter, Biglerville.

An etiquette club recently organized at Biglerville high school with Miss Lena Boyer, faculty advisor, elected the following officers: President, Mary Hollabaugh; vice president, Janice Starner; secretary, Elizabeth Lott; treasurer, Treva Lady. Meetings are held weekly and every two weeks the time is spent in folk and modern dancing.

In line with the project of the Lutheran Church of America, the congregation of St. Paul's church, Biglerville, is collecting clothing for European relief. Articles may be left at the parsonage any time before the end of next week. Any usable garments are acceptable.

To Charge Murder In Holdup Killing

Lebanon, Pa., Jan. 25 (AP)—A murder charge will be filed today, state police Sgt. H. P. Habig reported, against a 19-year-old army private in connection with the fatal shooting of James Strickler, 51, in a $1.90 gasoline station holdup at nearby Fontana Tuesday night.

Habig said the soldier signed a statement yesterday confessing the slaying after being arrested at Cleona while walking along the Benjamin Franklin highway.

A tip by a farmer who recognized the youth from a description sent out by police brought about the arrest. The assailant had abandoned a stolen car used during the slaying, Habig said, and readily submitted to arrest although he had the death pistol in his pocket.

Strickler died in his wife's arms shortly after being shot in the abdomen. His wife, who was in the station at the time of the killing, identified the soldier as her husband's slayer, Habig added.

Seagoing Sixth Being Inactivated

Kyoto, Japan, Jan. 25 (AP)—The U. S. Sixth Army, the most seagoing in American history, ends its colorful career tomorrow upon inactivation after three years and 21 major engagements.

It is commanded by Gen. Walter Krueger, German-born veteran of the Spanish-American War, Philippine Insurrection, and World War I whose 65th birthday tomorrow coincides with General MacArthur's 66th.

"It is sad to see this splendid team disappear from the scene," Krueger told the troops as he left today.

Sportsmen Backing Duff For State Post

Norristown, Pa., Jan. 25 (AP)—The Fish, Game and Forestry Association of Montgomery county Thursday was on record favoring reappointment of James H. Duff as attorney general by the next elected governor of Pennsylvania.

The group said Duff should be renominated so he may continue to direct the cleaning up of the state's streams started under the Martin administration.

Duff was guest speaker at the association's 50th anniversary dinner last night at Bungalow inn near Norristown.

WEDDING ANNIVERSARY

Mr. and Mrs. T. E. Williams, Gettysburg, observed their 38th wedding anniversary last Sunday by entertaining at dinner. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. William Richardson, Mr. and Mrs. Martin Williams and daughters, Lois Ann and Mary Frances, and Thelma and Shirley Kelsey, Emmitsburg; Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Johnson and children, Lawrence, Jr., Josephine, Alice and Philip, Chambersburg; Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Washington and children, Frances Regina, John and Lloyd, Jr. Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Banks and children, Samuel, Joseph, Margaret, Phyllis and Agatha, Gettysburg, and Josephine and Edward Williams.

Radar

In the test shot radar pulses out into space at the speed of light—186,000 miles per second—and other apparatus picked up the returning echo.

Look To Future

The War Department frankly acknowledged that it was impossible at this stage to forecast what the success of the experiment would make possible.

Maj. Gen. Harry C. Ingles, Signal Corps chief, said the immediate significance was that scientists know for the first time with certainty that a very high frequency radio wave from the earth can penetrate the electrically charged ionosphere which envelops both earth and stratosphere. The multi-layered ionosphere starts about 39 miles above the earth's surface and extends to an altitude of approximately 250 miles higher.

Looking to the future, the War Department said it may be possible with the aid of radar data to construct detailed topographical maps of distant planets, and also to determine the composition and atmospheric characteristics of these celestial bodies.

Soldier Decorated For Heroism In Action

Indiantown Gap, Pa., Jan. 25 (AP)—Sgt. Edwin M. Transeau, Mt. Jewett soldier who killed two enemy snipers, knocked out a mortar emplacement and silenced a machine gun, received the Distinguished Service Cross during formal ceremonies at the military reservation here yesterday.

Brig. Gen. Malcolm F. Lindsey, post commander, said in making the presentation that Transeau "displayed extraordinary heroism" in his action in Grosslitzgen, Germany, on March 9, 1945. The McKean county soldier was a member of the 385th Infantry Regiment, 76th Infantry Division, while overseas and received his honorable discharge here yesterday.

Governor Martin attended the ceremony and extended his personal congratulations to Transeau.

Ford Workers Face Layoff; Lack Steel

Detroit, Jan. 25 (AP)—While 15,000 of its employees faced immediate layoffs due of the steel strike, the Ford Motor company went ahead today in its effort to resolve a two-cent an hour wage difference with the CIO-United Auto Workers.

Ford, first auto producer to attribute a layoff directly to the steel strike, announced it would send the 15,000 home tonight and additional 25,000 a week later. A "complete shutdown" is threatened, the company said.

The production curtailments, disclosed as Ford and Union officials were reported nearing agreement on wages, company security and other issues, will have no effect on future bargaining sessions, both parties emphasized.

Scared Girl Foils Theater Holdup

Pittsburgh, Jan. 25 (AP)—An attempted holdup at the Fulton theater box-office failed last night when the girl cashier was too frightened either to scream or to hand over the money.

Pretty, 25-year-old Mary Slovak said a man wearing an army uniform threatened her with a pistol and demanded the day's receipts. "I was terribly scared and just sat there stunned," said Mary. "He seemed to change color suddenly and ran away."

John Walsh, manager of the theater, said he believed the robber may have thought the cashier pressed an alarm button when she leaned back in her chair.

Keefe May Quit P. H. Investigation

Washington, Jan. 25 (AP)—Representative Keefe (R., Wis.) threatened today to walk out on the Pearl Harbor investigation if its hearings continue beyond the February 15 deadline.

Keefe told a reporter he already has notified other members of the Senate-House committee that he will not attend sessions after that date, which Congress has fixed for a report on the inquiry.

"I've got other work to do," Keefe declared. "I can't go on here forever."

Democratic members generally have been agitating for an early end of the hearings. They contend little new evidence is likely to materialize after the committee finishes with Maj. Gen. Walter C. Short, the 1941 Hawaiian army commander who now is on the stand.

DISCHARGES FILED

Two discharges were filed for recording at the court house today by former service men. They were: Sgt. Carl W. Howe, York Springs R. 2, and Sgt. Donald M. Smith, Gardner.

By the end of 1943, U. S. production of aluminum was approximately six times greater than it had been in 1939.

BULLET STREAK THREATENED BY LAFAYETTE 5

The final score of the Gettysburg-Lafayette game will be posted on the window of The Gettysburg Times office immediately following the game, Saturday night.

A determined band of Gettysburg college courtiers will leave Saturday afternoon at 1 o'clock for Easton to meet the strong Lafayette college basketball team Saturday evening.

The Bullets fully realize they will be meeting their strongest foe to date and are bent on giving a good account of themselves.

Coach Bream's lads have swept through seven straight games and the team is one of the few collegiate outfits in the nation to remain unbeaten.

At present the Bullets and Muhlenberg are tied for the top spot in the northern division of the Middle Atlantic conference and the ultimate leader will probably be Muhlenberg, Lafayette or Gettysburg. Lafayette sports a 500 mark, its lone loss in league play being a 59-48 setback at the hands of Muhlenberg.

The Bullets will stick to their regular lineup of Welliver and Kaczowski, forwards; Howard, center, and Plank and Herr guards. Shepherd, Martini, Brown, Rambo and Wentz will form the first line of reserves.

The team will spend the night in Bethlehem, returning here Sunday.

Arendtsville Five Downs Biglerville

The Arendtsville All-Stars won their successive victory Thursday evening by defeating the Biglerville cagers at Arendtsville 34-27.

Biglerville led 12-10 at half time but collapsed in the third quarter when Arendtsville scored 20 points to take a 30-24 lead. Fissel potted the winners with 12 points while Lawyer looped 10 for Biglerville.

BIG JIM THORPE NOW IN FLORIDA

Miami, Fla., Jan. 25 (AP)—Big Jim Thorpe, with "knots all over my head from living in a trailer," is in Florida hoping to establish a school to teach youngsters the sports that made him famous.

The big Indian with an Irish pan—"I'm 5/8th Indian, 2/8th Irish and 1/8th French," he explains—hopes to set up a sports arena with a summer school where he can train coaches as well as players.

And you can name your sport—Thorpe was All-American football star at Carlisle Indian Institute, he played baseball with the New York Giants for six years, at golf he shoots in the medium 70's, and he has played expertly at practically all remaining games.

Now 57 and tipping the scales at 215 pounds, he looked back on his career, which included winning the pentathlon and decathlon awards in the Olympics in Sweden, and found it good.

"I've had a lot of fun," he said, glancing around a trailer full of fishing gear, hunting equipment, bow and arrows and golf clubs. "Now I'd like to teach."

Reserved Seats For 4 College Games

Prof. C. E. Bilheimer, athletic director at Gettysburg college, today announced that reserved seats will be sold for the home basketball games with Bucknell, Muhlenberg, Lafayette and LaSalle.

Preliminary games will be held prior to each game. Preceding the Bucknell game next Wednesday evening the jayvees will meet York Junior college. On February 6 the reserves meet Delone as a preliminary to the Muhlenberg tracas. The Lutheran Theological seminary team will meet Mt. Airy seminary prior to the Lafayette game on February 16 and preceding the LaSalle game on February 20 the St. Mary's boys' teams of York will play the reserves.

Reserved tickets will be $1, the demand determining how much of the bleachers will be reserved. Tickets may be procured at the Britcher and Bender store or at the office in the college gymnasium.

Hanover Cagers Here This Evening

Standing room is expected to be at a premium tonight when the Hanover and Gettysburg high school basketball teams clash in an important South Penn conference game on the local court.

A large number of fans are expected to accompany the rejuvenated Nighthawk quintet here. Doors to the gymnasium will be opened at 6:30 o'clock. Extra bleachers have been erected at the ends of the playing court.

What appeared to be a comparatively easy game on the Maroon schedule two weeks ago now looms as a stiff battle as the result of Hanover's great improvement. The teams at present are deadlocked for second place in the southern division and a defeat for either will eliminate it as a championship contender.

The reserve teams will clash at 7 o'clock.

Bill Doremus and Everett Morgan will officiate in the varsity tilt.

Sports Roundup

By JUGH FULLERTON, JR.

New York, Jan. 25 (AP)—Fritz Zivic has been advertising in Pittsburgh papers for "ambitious young men who are willing to learn the art of prize fighting." . . . No doubt he prefers guys with strong thumbs.

Fritz's real idea is to run a boxing school for youngsters six to 12 years old and we hope he's smart enough to make sure that nobody gets hurt. . . . Veteran coaches like Leo Houck, who has been working for years to soften the attitude of parents toward exercise with padded gloves, will tell you that nothing will wreck a boxing program quicker than a mismatch that causes some youngster to get beaten up or poor training that results in an injury.

EASY AS PIE

Fred White, who has scored as many as 41 points in one game for the University of New Hampshire's basketball team, says that he trains on his wife's lemon meringue pie. . . . Does that put him in the upper crust?

SHORTS AND SHELLS

Howard Millard, the Decatur, Ill., sports writer, will double as boss of the Decatur club in the revived three-eye league next summer. That gives him both first and second guess. . . . Muhlenberg college, which has been rising in the sports world since it turned out a couple of top-flight basketball teams, has collected more than half the money needed to build an 8,000 capacity gym, patterned after the Michigan State field house. . . . Although Big Ten rules kept Indiana out of the New Year's football bowls, two former IU athletes, Lew Saban and Billy Hillenbrand, starred in the "finger bowl" tough football game at Calcutta, India. . . . The American Bowling Congress is trying to collect information on all-war veteran pin leagues. . . . The Long Island U. basketballers have been invited to visit Cuba in March, following Cornell's proposed visit.

181 Athletes In Philadelphia Meet

Philadelphia, Jan. 25 (AP)—Four hundred and eighty-one athletes will compete in 23 events tonight at Convention hall in the second annual Philadelphia Inquirer invitation indoor track meet.

Marcel Hansene, 29-year-old French half-mile and mile champion will make his first public appearance in the United States in an exhibition run. Meet Director Lawson Robertson, University of Pennsylvania track coach, disclosed.

Feature attraction will be Les MacMillen's first postwar start in the mile event. The New York ace, who'll be competing unattached, was one of the nation's topflight prewar milers, but he hasn't raced the mile for three and a half years. In his last outing, a 1,000-yard event in New York last Saturday, MacMillen finished third.

LINCOLN TEAM IN FOURTH WIN

The Lincoln school cagers won their third straight game and their fourth in six starts Thursday afternoon by defeating the New Oxford high school jayvees at New Oxford 24-19.

Coach Ulrich's lads led 16-12 at half time, stood off a rally by New Oxford in the third period and then spurred in the final period to clinch victory. Deardorff landed 16 points for the victors while the scoring for New Oxford was evenly distributed.

Next Wednesday Lincoln school entertains the Littlestown high freshmen here.

BASEBALL PAY TO CLIMB HIGH

New York, Jan. 24 (AP)—Major league baseball salaries in the post-war era, starting this year, promise generally to reach lofty heights, although Babe Ruth's record $80,000 stipend in 1930 and '31 seems safe—at least for a few more years.

In sharp contrast to the days when Iron Man Ed Walsh was refused a $500 raise after receiving $2,500 for winning 40 games for the Chicago White Sox in 1908, an Associated Press survey showed today that at least 15 big league performers probably will be paid 1946 salaries ranging from $55,000 down to $20,000.

Heading this group is Hank Greenberg, the former Army Air Force captain now back with the Detroit Tigers, who was paid at the rate of $55,000 per season for his half-season work last year, and has been offered the same contract this year.

Others reported in this higher bracket include Joe DiMaggio, New York Yankees, $42,500; Bob Feller, Cleveland, $40,000; Mel Ott, New York Giants, $35,000; Joe Cronin and Ted Williams, Boston Red Sox; Lou Boudreau, Cleveland, and Dick Wakefield, Tigers, each $25,000; Dixie Walker, Brooklyn, $22,500; and Hal Newhouse, Tigers; Hank Borowy, Chicago Cubs; Red Ruffing, Spud Chandler, Bill Dickey and Joe Gordon, Yankees, each $20,000.

Of these, Ott, Cronin and Boudreau are playing managers, although Cronin may be confined to a pinch-hitting role this year. Other pilots, non-active, past the 20-grand figure include Joe McCarthy, Yankees; Connie Mack, Philadelphia Athletics; Leo Durocher, Dodgers; Billy Southworth, Boston Braves, and Bill McKechnie, Cincinnati.

Just Folks

By Edgar A. Guest

LETTER VII

Beloved, your sides would be aching
From laughter, I'm sure, as of old,
If the pitiful blunders I'm making
Today you could hear or behold.
Now, dressed in my "tux" or "claw hammer,"
I'm lost in a forest of dames.
Bewildered, I stutter and stammer Without you to tell me their names.

Beloved, so well you could read me,
You knew at a glance my despair.
You'd whisper: "I'm certain you need me."

Remember, that's So and So there!
The one that you call "triple chinner"

A fortune in motor stocks owns.
She was last night your partner at dinner
Her name (Must I tell you?) is Jones."

Time was when you whispered: "I wonder Whatever you'd do without me?"
I know, I do nothing but blunder.
Ashamed, as you knew I would be,
I'm sure you would chuckle to find me

In pits where I never should fall, Because you're not here to remind me
Of names which I ought to recall.

Today's Talk

STRANGERS TO DESPAIR

There are individuals and groups of individuals in this world who are our greatest benefactors. They are benefactors, no matter in what part of the world they happen to be. I would call them Strangers to Despair!

You know them. You like to meet them. They never exhibit their troubles or misfortunes. They are wealthy folks—wealthy in mind, heart, and spirit. They own everything beautiful within their range of vision. The simplest and commonest of Nature's creations thrill them. They are owners of everything that they appreciate—no matter what. They might have next to nothing that is rated as material wealth, yet that, with them, is of no consequence. They are wealthy just the same.

Trouble, sorrow, misfortune, losses, they take them all in their stride, without complaint. They are Strangers to Despair. They have nothing of it, nor are they of it.

They view the parks, note the outstanding beauties of their town, or city, stop to view gardens, look into store windows, listen to the joy that streams from the throats of birds, make note of happy faces, thrill at sunsets, are tolerant toward all human beings, smile in the face of fear and failure, and go to their rest at night time, happy and grateful to God for his many blessings. These Strangers to Despair—they are the ones who are going to shape constructively the things to come. Grave and disquieting coming events will have no terror for them. They will be handled. There will be no running away from them.

We ought to make acquaintance with these unusual and inspiring people, put them down as friends and companions, as well as co-workers, and stay by them through thick and thin. Never was this world in such need of Strangers of Despair! They outlive panics, strikes, wars, and every other sort of catastrophe. They are the useful rulers of a happy destiny. Let's join them!

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "The Bogy of Change"

VETS INCENSED BY FAILURE TO SEE GOVERNOR

Harrisburg, Pa., Jan. 25 (AP)—Approximately 600 veterans, angry over failure to see Governor Edward Martin about demands for unemployment compensation, a state bonus and a special session of the Legislature, today headed back to the picket lines they left to make their "protest march" on the capital.

Albert L. Smith, business agent of a Pittsburgh local of the striking CIO-United Electrical, Radio and Machine Workers of America—of which most of the servicemen are members—told the veterans at a mass meeting yesterday "we have done our job." He suggested they return to Philadelphia, Pittsburgh, Erie and Sharon and urge other strike pickets to carry on the campaign for a special session.

Smith charged Martin, who had an engagement at the nearby Indian-town Gap military reservation, "took a powder on us." The veterans shouted disapproval of the governor's absence.

The "marchers," at a mass meeting, approved resolutions demanding a special session to: 1. Amend the unemployment compensation law so veterans idled in labor disputes can draw benefits; 2. Authorize a state bonus; 3. Act on housing. In addition, they urged revision of the GI Bill of Rights which now disqualifies striking veterans from drawing federal jobless benefits.

Vets Go Home

Earlier, a committee representing the striking GI's met with George Bloom, Martin's secretary, and William H. Chesnut, state Secretary of Labor and Industry. The governor delegated them to represent him. Bloom offered to arrange a conference between the "marchers" committee and Martin today—but the striking veterans decided to go home.

He pointed out, however, in discussing jobless pay, that under the state law no striker—civilian or veteran—could draw unemployment benefits until the end of the fifth week of the work stoppage. The serv-lemen argued a special session should establish benefits for striking veterans who had not worked long enough to establish the work-credits required under existing state law.

On the bonus proposal, Bloom, reckoning the number of Pennsylvania veterans of World War II at 1,200,000, pointed out the cost of matching U. S. discharge pay would approximate $360,000,000—more than seven times the amount of a state public works bond issue approved by the voters last November.

He also noted it would require approval of two sessions of the Legislature, and finally of the citizens themselves.

As for housing, Bloom informed the committee the federal government has emergency housing "tied up," and has "frozen" materials that would be needed to carry out the veterans' proposal for state construction of emergency housing and for state-aid for municipal housing projects.

Thomas J. Neill, of Newark, N. J., director of veterans' activities for the CIO-United Electrical, Radio and Machine Workers of America, and principal spokesman at the conference, emphasized that a start should be made on all the veterans' demands at a special session, rather than waiting until the 1947 regular session.

Bank Deposits Increased $6,474,148 In 14 County Banks In '45, Survey Shows

Deposits in Adams county's 14 banks reached a new all-time high of $33,217,096.09 in 1945, according to the recently published annual statements prepared in response to "calls" from federal and state banking authorities.

This total represents an increase of nearly six and a half million dollars in the 12-month period in which countians also purchased U. S. War Bonds worth $6,855,116 in the two 1945 bond drives.

On December 31, 1944, bank deposits totaled $26,741,947.10. The figure for December 31, 1945, tops that sum by $6,474,148.99, a survey of the bank statements discloses. On the average each bank in the county increased its deposits by 24.2 per cent.

Added 12 Million in Two Years

Individually the increases ranged from 12 to 31 per cent with the majority of the banking houses boosting their deposits by between 20 and 30 per cent. In 1944 the average increase for the banks was 26 per cent.

The largest increase was reported by the Gettysburg National bank where total deposits passed the $9,000,000 mark, a gain of $1,902,311.44 over 1944. The increase at the First National bank of Gettysburg was $1,131,243.68, a jump of 29.6 per cent. The Gettysburg National's increase represented a 26 per cent rise.

Last year's jump in bank deposits in the county topped the 1944 increase of $5,510,205.03. In the last two years bank deposits in Adams county have climbed from $21,231,742.07—a two-year increase of almost $12,000,000. In the same two years countians bought war bonds totaling almost $17,000,000.

The banks whose deposits increased by 20 per cent or more during 1945 follow: East Berlin National, the First National of Gettysburg, the York Springs National, Arendtsville National, Gettysburg National, Farmers and Merchants bank of New Oxford, Biglerville National, Bendersville National, Farmers' bank of McSherrystown, Littlestown State, and the First National of Fairfield.

The figures used in these calculations do not include sums countians have invested in bank stock but are limited to the amounts held by the 14 banks on demand, time, federal and state deposits.

Total deposit figures for the county banks follow with the first column giving the total reported at the close of business in 1944 and the second figure for the corresponding date in 1945:

New Home Sought By Red Cross

The Adams county chapter of the Red Cross is looking for a new home.

By April 1 the chapter will have to vacate its present headquarters in the first floor of the Topper building, next to the court house on Baltimore street, for a new tenant.

Mrs. E. S. Lewars, chapter chairman, said Wednesday: "Mr. Topper (Attorney Raymond F. Topper, owner of the building) has been very generous and we are sorry we can no longer remain in our present quarters.

"We are looking for new headquarters space in the central part of town. Several rooms will be needed, preferably on the first floor."

The chapter headquarters moved to the Topper building from the court house about two years ago. Quarters in the county building, while never adequate, were rent free but cannot be considered now because of the greatly expanded volume of Red Cross services requiring more office space than the single room used at the court house.

COMMITTEE HAS RAISED $500 FOR FREE ROADS UNIT

At a meeting of the Pennsylvania Free Roads Association committee of the Gettysburg Chamber of Commerce in the Chamber offices Monday evening, reports showed that $500 has been contributed thus far in the committee's effort to raise $1,500 to fight the extension of the Pennsylvania turnpike and obtain the modernization of the Lincoln highway and other existing free roads.

Representative Francis Worley, York Springs R. 1, attended the meeting and declared that "While I am your representative, I am not for toll roads that do not benefit the people of Adams county." Continuing, he said:

"What I am for is to finish the unfinished portions of partly built hard surface roads in the rural sections of this county, and to build more hard surface roads in all rural communities of Adams county. I am also for the upkeep of existing hard surface roads and borough streets in this county."

Continue Drive

Glenn Guise, co-chairman of the committee, presided at the meeting. Announcement was made that the drive for funds will be continued this week, and that persons not contacted and wishing to contribute should mail their checks.

"It is important to back this drive, because if we expect tourists to continue to come to Gettysburg we must have our highways modernized and kept in repair," Henry Garvin, president of the Chamber of Commerce said.

The committee will meet again next Monday evening in the Chamber of Commerce offices at 8 p. m. to receive further reports.

LEGION FORMS DRUM CORPS

Plans for a drum and bugle corps and a firing squad for military funerals were outlined Monday evening at the regular meeting of the local Legion post.

A committee comprising William Timmins, chairman; Lawrence M. Sheads, Charles Fridinger, Richard D. Gilbert and Jack Berger was named to effect the organization of the drum corps which held its first practice following the meeting.

Named to form the firing squad was a committee made up of C. Arthur Brame, Roland Hess, and Paul Hayne. Previously a firing squad was provided the Legion for its burial service by the State Guard unit here.

Paul M. Rohrbaugh, service officer of the post, was selected as the Legion's representative to the county welfare council committee. Donations of $25 to the Boy Scouts and $5 to the Infantile Paralysis fund were voted.

Eighty-six new members were received into the organization bringing the number of members to 837. Commander W. A. Geiselman presided at the session.

The Legion announced today the names of the three door prize winners at last Wednesday's dinner. They were: first prize, Mrs. George A. Miller; second, Mrs. Laurence Guise, and third, Mrs. Cletus Sanders.

STATE GUARD TO TRAIN AGAIN AT INDIANTOWN GAP

Troop "C" of the Pennsylvania Guard will participate in its second, and probably last, period of field training at Indiantown Gap Military Reservation from June 22 to July 6, it was announced Wednesday by Captain C. Arthur Brame, commanding officer of the Adams county unit.

The local cavalry troop will participate with some 5000 other officers and men in the 15 day period of intensive training to perfect themselves in the tactics and techniques necessary to maintain the organization as one of the most efficient state guards in the United States, Captain Brame said.

A communication from Maj. Gen. Milton G. Baker, commanding general of the State Guard, to the local troop points out that "this will probably be the last encampment of this volunteer force, which replaced the famous 28th Division. The 28th Division is expected to be reactivated on an expanding scale in 1947 and to resume its place in defense of the commonwealth. An opportunity will be extended to officers and men of the present Guard who can qualify by training and experience, to become members of the reorganized National Guard."

Need Several Recruits

Last summer, shortly after its activation as a guard unit the local troop took part in the annual encampment at Indiantown Gap. Previously the local unit was part of the Minutemen organization which was established at the start of the war to replace the National Guard. All members of the unit served in a purely volunteer capacity, without compensation except for the period of training at Indiantown Gap. As a result of its work Troop C won high praise from both battalion and regimental commanders.

The training period at Indiantown, according to plans being laid by Governor Edward Martin, Adjutant General Robert M. Vail and the Division staff, will include instruction in the basic duties of the soldier, rifle marksmanship, chemical warfare, reviews and ceremonies. An adequate program of sports, topped by a track meet for the championship of the division is being provided to meet recreational need of the guardsmen at the field exercises.

Captain Brame announced also that he has several vacancies remaining in the county troop and that it is desired to bring the unit to full strength in the next few weeks so that new men may receive several months' of recruit training prior to the maneuvers at Indiantown Gap.

PLEAS CHANGED BY DEFENDANTS

The Adams county court Saturday granted permission to Roy McFerrin, Seven Stars, and Edward T. Weaver, Blue Ridge Summit, to withdraw pleas of guilty previously made before justices of the peace.

McFerrin was granted permission to enter a plea of not guilty to a charge of pandering growing out of an affair in Gettysburg in which he says he "lost" approximately $200 while in a parked car in rear of the Murphy building. McFerrin claimed that a woman, whom he had in the car, took his pocketbook while he was kissing her. As a result of that affair a charge of pandering was brought against him on December 15 before Justice of the Peace Robert P. Snyder by Borough Officer Paul B. Shearer. McFerrin pleaded guilty to the charge before the justice, but now has decided to bring the case to trial by his new plea.

Weaver was charged with driving while drunk by State Patrolman George J. Evanko December 3 before Justice of the Peace John H. Basehore. He also pleaded guilty before the justice, but now has changed his plea and will stand trial.

Masters were appointed in two divorce cases at Saturday's court session held in the judicial chambers. Attorney Edgar K. Markey was appointed master in the action brought by George S. Fissel against Mildred I. (Sites) Fissel, Hamiltonban township, and J. Francis Yake, Jr., was named master in the action brought by John F. Wright against Dorothy Louise Wright, both of Gettysburg.

COUPLE IS MARRIED

Charles, Henry Eichelberger son of Mr. and Mrs. William P. Eichelberger, Dillsburg R. 1, and Miss Evelyn Irene Griest, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Christian F. Griest, Gardeners R. D., were married January 20 at York Springs. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Charles A. Eichelberger.

C. Arthur Brame, Jr. Ends Army Service

Pfc. C. Arthur Brame, Jr., Gettysburg R. 5, has returned to civilian life after a war service that began with the sale of more than 400,000 war stamps as a carrier for The Gettysburg Times and ended with two years of service in the army of the United States during which time he took part in five battles.

The son of the manager of the Gettysburg Ice and Storage company and Mrs. Brame, Brame as a carrier led all Times carriers in sale of war stamps. His all-time record of 466,463 stamps still stands as the top amount of sales among local paper carriers.

Entering service in July, 1943, he trained at Camp Custer and then went abroad April 13, 1944. He served with the 553rd Military Police Escort Guard company in England, Normandy, Northern France, Belgium, Holland, Luxembourg and Germany.

POLICE ARREST TWO MORE FOR BAD CONDUCT

Back talk and abusive language to borough police officers at midnight Saturday night resulted in the arrest, on disorderly conduct charges, of two men on Chambersburg street.

Walter Paulock, Bendersville, was in jail Monday awaiting a hearing before Justice of the Peace John H. Basehore, while Leroy Miller, Gettysburg R. 3, forfeited $15 bail by failing to appear for a hearing Monday.

Police received a call at 11:45 p. m. of trouble at the restaurant operated by Ernest Kranias, Chambersburg street. Officers Clark W. Staley and Albert Wolford were patrolling in the police car. Chief of Police Robert P. Harpster and Officer Charles W. Culp, Jr., started for the restaurant on foot. Staley and Wolford arrived first.

Paulock was requested to leave the restaurant, where, it was alleged, he had been "creating trouble." He complied with the request, but after reaching the street, and after police had offered to take him home, he became "abusive" with Staley, and was placed under arrest and put in the police car.

Miller followed up Paulock's remarks with some "choice language" of his own, police said, and was hustled into the police car by Chief Harpster.

A small-sized crowd gathered at the scene of the arrests, but was orderly, and offered no interference. At 1:30 a. m. Sunday a crowd which had gathered at the taxi stand on the square near Chambersburg street was dispersed by borough police. No resistance was offered to the police order. Chief Harpster said a complaint had been made by the occupant of a nearby apartment.

Driver Faces Two Counts After Crash

Charges of failure to yield the right of way at an intersection and of driving without a current inspection sticker will be laid against William T. Pope, Gettysburg R. 3, as a result of a collision Monday morning at 10 o'clock on the Chambersburg "pike near Seven Stars.

The charges will be laid before Justice of the Peace William Dentler by State Trooper Robert Dietrich, who investigated.

The accident occurred, according to Dietrich, when Pope drove his truck out onto the Chambersburg road from a side road directly in front of a car driven by Warren S. Shellenberger, York, who was proceeding west on Route 30. No one was injured. Total damage was estimated at $250.

Motorist Faces Code Violation

A ten-day notice was mailed by Justice of the Peace Robert P. Snyder Monday to J. T. Woodward, 698 South Washington street, charging him with failing to yield the right of way. The complaint was signed by Borough Police Officer Charles W. Culp, Jr.

The charge grew out of an accident at 10:15 p. m. Saturday at Baltimore and Middle streets in which Woodward is charged with turning from Baltimore street to West Middle street in front of a car operated by Miss Mary Rohrbaugh, Gettysburg R. 2. Both cars were considerably damaged.

RELIEF PAYMENTS

Direct relief payments to Adams county residents for the week ended January 18 totaled $415.20, an increase of $12.20 over the previous week, according to a report by Ramsey S. Black, state treasurer.

LOCAL GUARD BEATS ALERT. TEST BY HOUR

The performance of the 72 officers and men of the county company of the State Guard during Sunday's mobilization was termed "excellent" today by Capt. C. Arthur Brame, commanding officer of the unit.

Within two hours after the alert began all members of the troop except four, all of whom had "excellent" reasons for their absence, were present at the armory here. The men were notified by telephone all over the county starting at 12 noon and Captain Brame said today that "the cooperation of the telephone exchange operators could not have been better. Much of the success of the mobilization came from their efforts."

Beat Test By Hour

Within an hour and a half after the stand-by calls at 12 noon every member except three who are without telephone service had been notified. By 2 o'clock in the afternoon all members of Troop C of the First Cavalry Squadron, Pennsylvania State Guard had gathered at the armory. At 3 p. m. the troops, with full equipment moved out in two columns. First Lt. George Dehoff, commander of the first platoon led his platoon in convoy to Littlestown, averaging 30 miles an hour on the trip. At Littlestown he halted his column for further orders.

At the same time Second Lt. Amidee Ecker, second platoon leader, led his outfit to New Oxford. Captain Brame then ordered the two platoons to meet at Hanover. The entire company returned to Gettysburg through Abbotstown.

National requirements are for the state guard units to be able to mobilize within three hours, Captain Brame pointed out. The local company beat that requirement by an hour in its test.

SEEK ESCAPED SOLDIERS HERE

The trail of two soldiers who escaped from a train at New Cumberland Sunday afternoon while enroute to the army disciplinary barracks at New Cumberland led to Adams county Monday with the finding of an automobile they are believed to have stolen in Wormleysburg.

State troopers from the Gettysburg substation found the car abandoned Monday about 1 1/2 miles north of Cross Keys on the York Springs road. The occupants of the stolen vehicle had apparently left it sometime during the night.

The vehicle was owned by Eleanor Taylor, Marysville, Pa., who Sunday evening stopped her car in front of the office of a justice of the peace in Wormleysburg to report that she had lost the registration plate from her car. As she was going into the justice's office she noticed two soldiers in the vicinity. When she came back from the office both the soldiers and the car were gone.

Both of the escaped military prisoners are 22. The one, William Henry Seagle, Wichita, Kansas, is six feet, weighs 170 pounds, has brown eyes and hair, a ruddy complexion and is tattooed on both legs. The other, Paul R. Lowallen, Saffell, California, is five foot 10 1/2 inches tall, weighs 140, has brown eyes, blond hair and a light complexion. He has scars on the back of his head and neck. The two were handcuffed together when they escaped from the train. Neither had an overcoat.

Gettysburg Article Start For Author

Cardinal-designate Francis J. Spellman, archbishop of New York, who has become famous as a writer as well as head of the wealthiest archdiocese in the Roman Catholic church, began his writing career with an essay about Gettysburg, according to Life magazine.

The archbishop made nearly $250,000 from his writings during the past three years, according to a recent article in a national magazine. He gave all of the money to charity. However, he kept the award for his first prize piece of writing which won first prize in an essay contest when he was in ninth grade of school. The title of the story was, "The Battle of Gettysburg."

ACCEPTS POSITION

Ivan Kitzmiller, discharged from the army in December after serving with a medical outfit in England, France and Germany, began his duties Monday as parts manager at Gettysburg garage. He is a son of former County Treasurer and Mrs. Blair Kitzmiller, Gettysburg.

Local Woman Gets Promotion In Navy

Lt. Ruth M. Sachs, USNR, (W) sister of Mrs. Emma Sheffer, county clerk of courts, has been promoted to lieutenant commander in the navy, according to word received by Mrs. Sheffer.

Commander Sachs, a graduate of Gettysburg high school and Gettysburg college is with the Bureau of Supplies and Accounts, Washington, D. C. She recently completed an intensive course in the School of Terminations at Washington and at the conclusion of the course was transferred to the Terminations unit of the United States Navy where claims are settled for contracts cancelled by the government since the close of the war.

WILL COLLECT USED CLOTHING HERE ON SUNDAY

Every resident of Gettysburg will be given an opportunity Sunday afternoon to contribute to the Victory Clothing Collection when fire trucks will make a town-wide collection of used clothing for shipment overseas to relieve suffering in war-torn countries.

The fire trucks, driven by firemen and manned by Boy Scouts and members of the Gettysburg Rotary and Lions clubs, will begin their collection at 1 o'clock from the engine house and will cover every street in town.

Plans for the collection were announced by Cloyd Shetter, chairman of the clothing collection committee from the Lions club, who is in charge of the campaign for clothes here. He said fire company officials have willingly offered full cooperation in the campaign by making two trucks available for Sunday's collection.

School Pupils Help

A truckload of clothes was donated last week by pupils at the Gettysburg parochial school and pupils at the High Street school also gave used clothing that filled several large cartons. Appeals for clothing are being made this week at the Meade, Lincoln and high schools.

Mr. Shetter said that he has contacted school authorities at Arendtsville, Biglerville, Cashtown and Bendersville and will see today schoolmen at Heidelsburg and York Springs to arrange for clothing collections by the pupils. The donated clothing will be brought to the collection center in the Epley machine shop in the middle of the first block of South Washington street.

Mr. Shetter asked local grocers and other merchants to "do their bit" in the clothing drive by saving large cartons and sending them to the clothing collection center for use in shipping the clothing gathered here to national headquarters.

A considerable quantity of clothing already has been collected at the local center, Mr. Shetter said.

JOHN H. BIRELY TAKES OWN LIFE

John Henry Birely, aged about 52, Emmitsburg district, committed suicide Saturday afternoon about 4 o'clock. Death was due to a shotgun discharge, which penetrated the left breast directly over the heart.

Birely resided alone in a small dwelling, near Four Points in the Tom's Creek vicinity. Although living in Frederick county, his post office address was Taneytown R. 3.

He sometimes took his meals with the nearby Emory Hahn family by whom he was reported last seen alive around the noon hour. In the late afternoon, Mr. Hahn went to the Birely place and found the body lying alongside the wall of an outbuilding.

Dr. W. R. Cadle, Emmitsburg, was notified and he in turn communicated with the Frederick county medical examiner. Despondency could have been the only motive, it was stated by investigators.

Following examination, the official verdict of suicide was returned.

Birely had been doing odd jobs of carpentry around the Emmitsburg community. It was understood he had formerly been a ship's carpenter, but was compelled to abandon this work due to ill health, eventually going to the Emmitsburg area to make his home.

FOUR FILE DISCHARGES

The following former servicemen have filed their discharges at the court house for recording: Pvt. William S. Eskridge, Ashland, Ky.; Cpl. Donald Des Moines Sieg, from the Marines; Pfc. Therman O. Turner, New Oxford R. 2, and Pvt. Charles N. Smith, McSherrystown.

NAVY OFFICER WILL RE-OPEN DENTAL OFFICE

After serving in the U. S. Naval Reserve since 1942, Dr. Fred B. Bryson, 433 Baltimore street, has returned to Gettysburg, and will reopen his office next Monday. Dr. Bryson was separated from the service with the rank of lieutenant commander December 12, and is on terminal leave, which expires February 11.

Dr. Bryson practiced dentistry here for 12 years before entering the service, and still retains his previous office location. The Gettysburg commander entered the service on active duty April 26, 1943. He was commissioned as a lieutenant in November, 1942.

Served On Carrier

He was stationed at Bainbridge, Md., and while there received special instruction and training in oral surgery and exodontia, which qualified him to become supervisor of one of the large dental dispensaries there. Following 18 months of duty at the dispensary, Commander Bryson was assigned to the USS Santee CVE 29, an aircraft carrier. As a member of the medical corps he saw duty in the Philippines, East China sea, at Okinawa, the evacuation of 1,000 Allied prisoners of war from Formosa and finally in the occupation of Japan, going ashore at Wakayama, Yokohama and Tokyo.

While at Okinawa, Comm. Bryson's carrier was one of two carriers to complete 106 days there, with 83 operational flight days to its credit, which set a record for carriers of all classes. The ship and all departments received a "well done" from Admiral Kinkaid for the evacuation of POW's from Formosa before the occupation of the island by Allied troops.

"It is my opinion," Comm. Bryson said, "that if these prisoners on Formosa had been fed half what we feed prisoners of war in this country, they would have thought they were having Thanksgiving every day. Their main diet consisted of 14 ounces (about the size of a baseball) of rice a day. Many of the prisoners had spent over 30 months in confinement. Nearly all prisoners suffered from malaria, dysentery, beri-beri and malnutrition."

The Santee returned to San Diego November 11, and Comm. Bryson was relieved of his duties December 1, reporting to the Philadelphia navy yard for release December 12. He wears the following ribbons: the American theater, Asiatic-Pacific area, bronze star, Philippine Liberation with one bronze star and the Victory medal.

Wednesday from the State War
Finance Committee revealed.

These are the official figures:

subscription is $50,267.50.

$3,983 ALLOTTED
FOR PLANNING
PUBLIC WORKS

Adams county has been allocated $3,983 under Act 413 of the 1945
General Assembly, for the planning and engineering of public works, but to date no applications have been filed for this state aid. The matter has been called to the attention of the office of the county school superintendent, and Dr. Robert A. Bream, assistant superintendent, said Saturday only construction planned by schools in Adams county, so far as he knew, is at Biglerville.

The latter borough has two projects, enlargement of the high school and additions to the elementary school.

The high school plans have been approved, Dr. Bream said. Nothing has thus far been done on the elementary school plans. Dr. Bream said that "there seems to be a need in other districts, but so far as we know, there has been no other planning except at Biglerville." The latter could probably be reimbursed on its engineering and planning costs, he said.

The General Assembly act empowers the Pennsylvania Post-War Planning Commission to make grants to political sub-divisions to cover up to 50 per cent of the cost of the planning and engineering cost of worth-while public works. The main purpose of the act is to encourage construction of needed projects, thereby providing employment during the transition period.

The commission said that it had received 311 applications, and up to January 8, 66 grants had been approved, not including sewage treatment projects, which are being promoted by the Sanitary Water Board, or aviation programs, being handled by the Aeronautics commission. Approved grants to date amount to $348,856.67 and represent work estimated to cost $71,548,399.80. It is further estimated that the construction involved will provide 15,741 man-years of on-site employment and 5,112 man-years of off-site employment.

The empowering act requires that the appropriation be allocated to the counties on a population basis.

Warner hospital increased by five per cent over 1944 during the past year and increased 127 per cent over the first year the new laboratory was in operation, 1938, according to the annual report presented at Fri-

by the board. The table is the sec-

New Oxford Truck
In Hanover Crash

A trailer truck driven by J. R.
Robinson, New Oxford, and an automobile operated by Mervin G. Haverstock, Hanover R. D. 2, figured in a mishap Monday afternoon in Hanover. According to the police reports, Haverstock was traveling north on Carlisle street at the time and when he applied his brakes to reduce the speed of his car due to a machine slowing down in front of him, the brakes locked. His car then slid on the icy street into the path of the trailer truck traveling south.

Haverstock suffered minor injuries in the collision, including lacerations to his forehead. Both machines were badly damaged. The damage to Haverstock's car is estimated by the police at $300 and that to the

REV. BERKHEIMER
TO TELL OF RED CROSS SERVICES

The Rev. George H. Berkheimer, pastor of the Arendtsville Lutheran charge, and recently returned from four years' duty as an army chaplain, will be the speaker Monday evening at the annual meeting of the Adams County Red Cross chapter.

In his talk the Rev. Mr. Berkheimer plans to outline the work of the Red Cross for men in service as he saw it during his term as a chaplain.

The meeting will be held in the social rooms of Christ Lutheran church, Gettysburg, starting at 7:30 p. m. and officials of the Red Cross today urged all members to attend.
All persons who gave one dollar or more during the last drive are members in the organizations.

Certificates will be issued to chairmen of the various volunteer and special service groups and chairmen of the various localities for distribution to workers. More than 500 of the certificates provided by the National Red Cross will be handed out.
They are for "meritorious personal service performed in behalf of the nation, her armed forces and suffering humanity in the second world war." Signed by President Truman, Basil O'Connor and Mrs. E. S.
Lewars, the county Red Cross chairmen, the certificates will go to those who since 1941 have given voluntarily of their time and efforts to aid the Red Cross. The workers include all those who helped in drives, did sewing and other work for the Red Cross.

Following the business session at which officers for the coming year will be named and by-laws adopted, a social period will be held with refreshments to be served by members of the Nurses' Aaide and Canteen Corps in uniform.

The session will mark the first time in more than a decade that Mrs. E. S. Lewars has not been returned unanimously to the office of chairman. Mrs. Lewars resigned the post recently.

Red Cross Assists
Stranded Goh, Family

A U. S. sailor, his wife and two children are convinced today that Adams countians are pretty nice people.

The sailor, who saw five years of service, both in the Atlantic and Pacific, was visiting in Florida with his parents while on rehabilitation leave. He, his wife and two children, 2½ years and four months of age, were driving back to New York where he is to report for duty. A few miles outside of Gettysburg a tire blew out, destroying the tire and halting the sailor who had only a few more hours to make the port of New York.

A tire was needed; money was needed for the tire so the sailor hitch-hiked into Gettysburg and found the Red Cross office. There Glenn Guise, former marine now a garage man, was contacted. Guise felt he could find a tire for the sailor. The Red Cross backed the sailor with money for the tire and the interrupted journey back to duty was continued.

None Injured In Truck-Car Crash

No one was injured and damage estimated at $400 occurred when a coal truck and pleasure car collided Monday morning at 6 o'clock on the Hanover-York Springs road near Cross Keys.

HOPE OF WORLD
LIES IN AMERICA
LECTURER SAYS

Imre Kovacs, Danube-born lecturer who told an audience in the Methodist church last Thursday night he could talk for two days on America's imperfections and for two weeks about the hope that lies in America," declared that "if we had as much democracy in Belgrade, Moscow and Chungking as in Gettysburg, this world would be a wonderful place in which to live."

Introduced by the Rev. Floyd A.
Carroll, Methodist pastor, as "a living demonstration of a man who has found the way to become a great American although he was not born in this country," Mr. Kovacs, who is a minister and representative of the international YMCA, declared the suffering people of the world look to America as their last hope.

"The people of Poland and Java are looking to America for freedom from the oppressions they suffered before the war—and they are being answered with American-made munitions in the hands of our allies," he said. "Our State Department's only move has been tamely to ask that American labels be removed from the guns being used to suppress the people."

Describing the centuries-old hatreds between nations and peoples in Europe, Mr. Kovacs told how hatreds are taught in the schools of Europe with each nation teaching its children that it is the "chosen" country and that other nations are to be despised and tolerated only when necessary. "People learn hatred much more quickly than love," he observed and described the fratricidal wars between the Croats and the Serbs in Yugoslavia, "Serbs and Croats live peacefully together in America proving that in a single generation the hatreds and conceits of centuries can be forgotten and that it is possible for human beings to live and worship together if they acknowledge the fatherhood of God and practice the brotherhood of man."

The peoples of Europe don't want Russian or British chains and are rapidly becoming disillusioned by American foreign policy. "The Russian soldier," he added parenthetically, "is the worst propagandist for Russia Stalin possibly could have sent into central Europe."

"Our boys fought and bled and died for the right of all peoples to live in peace—not so that world powers could be enriched and empire lines preserved."

"May God help us all to pray and dream and talk and write letters so that the whole world may be as fine a place in which to live as Gettysburg—that's the challenge of being an American."

A brief devotional service preceded the address and included several hymns, a prayer and a scripture reading from Isaiah by the pastor.
An offering was received to help finance the series of public forums initiated Thursday evening. The next will be held February 5 with Dr. Norman Vincent Peale as the speaker and the next February 19 when Dr. Ralph Sockman will speak.

SAYS PATIENCE IS NEEDED FOR DEMOBILIZATION

The urgent need for exercise of patience—by both civilians and soldiers alike—in the matter of demobilization was stressed by the Rev. George H. Berkheimer, Ardenville Lutheran pastor and former army chaplain, in a talk Monday evening before the Gettysburg Lions club.

"Our great armed forces were not mobilized in a day and they cannot come home in a day," the Rev. Mr. Berkheimer, who served three years in the Pacific, declared as he expressed the opinion that a great deal of the unrest among the GIs overseas now is due to "the clamoring of people in this country for their return."

"It's a great sacrifice for the men to stay away from their homes for long periods of time but we must remember that our armies came home too soon after the last war and let the isolationist clique have sway. The same forces are at work now and if we allow ourselves to be duped again, we'll have to repeat this mess as surely as I'm standing here."

"Keep The Job Done"
Asserting that America now has the choice of keeping some of its forces overseas "to keep the job done" or facing the certainty of another war, the Rev. Mr. Berkheimer continued: "We can't stay out of world affairs so it's only commonsense on our part, since we have this thing settled, is to see that the job stays done."

"It is our duty to the men overseas, to ourselves and to the thousands who will never come home. They wanted to come home as much as we did and their loved ones longed for their return. The suffering, the bleeding and the dying in this war is over but it remains for us the living to see that the sacrifice of those lying beneath white crosses around the world was not in vain. They died for principles, ideals and dreams dearer to them than their lives and it behooves us to live for those ideals."

The speaker said that while most of the returning veterans will be able to adjust themselves to civilian life there will be some who "definitely need help and guidance." He urged that such help come from local individuals and organizations rather than in a general way from the federal government.

Commander Forums
The speaker told of life and peoples as he found them in many sections of the Pacific in the performance of his duties as supply chaplain for 1,500 chaplains from Sydney to Luzon, the Solomon and Dutch East Indies and made special mention of the friendliness of the people of Australia and New Guinea.

Forty Lions and guests attended the dinner meeting at the Marine restaurant with Vice President Milton R. Remmel presiding. Carl Westerdahl, a member of the club recently discharged from the navy, was presented and spoke briefly.

The Lions voted "support and commendation" to the Rev. Floyd A. Carroll, Methodist pastor, for arranging the current series of public forums which opened last week. The clubmen also discussed plans for sending a delegation to Shippensburg next Monday for a regional ladies' night meeting.

COL. JOHNSON TELLS CLUBMEN OF PRISON DAYS

Col. Edwin H. Johnson, Harrisburg street, a prisoner of the Japanese from the surrender of Bataan to the end of the war, outlined his experiences as a prisoner Monday evening at the regular meeting of the Rotary club.

As prisoners, he and his group had been moved a number of times, from the Philippines to Japan, from Japan to Formosa, from that island to far into the interior of Manchuria and finally to a huge war prisoner camp at Mukden, in Manchuria.

It was August 10, 1945, and the prisoners at Mukden saw a number of parachutists tumbling toward the earth some distance from their camp. They thought little of it, for the Japanese had an airport nearby and they believed it was the Japanese paratroopers practicing. Sometime later that day some of the prisoners wandered into a barracks adjoining the Japanese headquarters. From the windows of the barracks they could look into the office of the Japanese colonel who commanded the camp. Soon they were out, excitedly, to tell the latest bit of news to the other prisoners.

Supplies from Russians There were men who looked like American soldiers with the colonel, they reported. The men who were apparently Americans from their clothes and insignia were having tea with the colonel. As many prisoners as could crowd into the barracks to see the strange sight. The only conclusion they could reach was that new prisoners had been captured by the enemy—but why were they drinking tea together in an apparently friendly manner? It was a topic of conversation for the rest of the day and far into the night.

The next morning the officer prisoners were called together. The ranking American officer spoke to them: "I have the permission of the camp commandant to inform you that an armistice has been arranged between the Japanese forces on the one hand and the American and British on the other. Hostilities continue however between the Russian and the Japanese forces."

Thus the war ended after four years for Colonel Johnson. The American prisoners sat tight waiting for liberation. A few days later Russian troops spilled into Mukden and the Japanese guards were placed in jail. The Russians asked the Americans for a list of what they needed, and when the list came provided all the materials for which the Americans asked.

Tells of Bataan "The Russians could not do enough for us," the colonel declared. Then American planes came in with food, clothing, radios, cigars, cigarettes, athletic equipment. "Anything you could think of. With what we were getting from the Russians, who seemed to be trying to outdo themselves in providing for us, and with what we got from General Wedemeyer's supply forces by plane we soon had so much we didn't know what to do with it."

Thus ended four lean and hungry years during which the prisoners had seldom received enough food, frequently had to suffer humiliations and embarrassments, never received any mail.

Colonel Johnson told of going to the Philippines to become commanding officer of a Philippine army regiment, of how the Japanese attacked before the Philippines were mobilized and of the long battle on Bataan which finally ended when the American troops, without food, ill and exhausted had to surrender.

20-Years for Dr. Saby Then began the long march, after which began a seemingly endless period of imprisonment. At the end of the prison term, when Colonel Johnson was taken aboard the hospital ship "Mercy" for return the first person he met was an army nurse whom he had last seen on Bataan, and who had escaped from there but continued service in the army until the end. She was from Lancaster.

Of the fighting on Bataan, Colonel Johnson said: "We had to make a sacrifice hit so that someone could advance to second base. If we had not put up the fight then Australia would have been invaded and we would have perhaps lost that great base. Our only regret was that we could not have held out longer."

Dr. Rasmus S. Saby was presented with a pin marking 20 years of perfect attendance at the local Rotary meeting. Charles Elcholtz made the presentation. Dr. Chester Gilt presided at the meeting in the absence of the president. About 50 attended.

HOME - KILLED MEAT BOLSTERS LOCAL SUPPLIES

The meat situation in Gettysburg presented a variegated picture Thursday, with some retailers affected little, if any, by the strike in meat packing plants, and others fearful that their supplies will reach the vanishing point unless the strike is soon settled.

A prolonged holdup of shipments from the strike-affected packing houses will put some retailers very definitely in "bad shape," they admit. The strike has already produced a scramble here for locally-killed meat. Some markets get all their meat this way. Others get part of their supply, and the rest have to depend on packing house shipments.

The bright side of the picture locally is in home-killed beef and in meat received from packers whose plants are not yet affected by the strike, principally the smaller houses.

Contrasting Reports

"Our supply of meat is still fairly good," said one store. "Beef is still scarce, as is veal and lamb. We have a good supply of smoked meats."

In contrast was this report from another store:

"Meat? Sure, we have lots of it. We're short, and have been, on cured meat and hams, but we have plenty of beef and lamb. We knew this was coming, so we got in an extra supply."

However, this store admitted that "if the strike lasts long enough, we're going to be in bad shape. We can supply our customers for at least two weeks, however," it said.

Some Shippers Unaffected

Another store received shipments this week, and expects that these shipments will continue. They came from houses not affected—yet—by the strike. Operators of the store are keeping their fingers crossed. They said there was no shortage thus far, except that beef is scarce. There is more bacon and ham available than for some time past.

"We received part of one shipment this week," said another store. "We don't expect any more meat this week. We have no beef, but we still have pork, sausage and franks."

More cheering news came from two other places which say they fear no shortages, at least of beef.

A Lot of "ifs"

"We kill our own," said one. "We have plenty and there won't be any meat shortage here."

Another declared: "We have lots of beef, but no pork. We kill our own beef, so there is plenty of beef and veal."

Representatives of the larger packing houses are taking no orders for meat, a dealer here said. Whether Gettysburgians will come to meatless days depends on three "ifs"—if the government steps in and takes over the struck plants, and shipments from these plants are resumed, if employees of the smaller packing companies stay "on the job," and if the supply of locally-killed meat holds out, then Gettysburg families will have meat on the table. Take away any one of these "ifs," and the situation will be serious.

JACOB P. EIKER DIES SUDDENLY

Gettysburg at Lafayette.
--------------------------

A scrappy but outclassed Mechanicsburg Naval Supply Depot quintet became the seventh victim of the undefeated Gettysburg college dribblers here Saturday evening, the Bullets romping away to a 65-33 decision.

At times the Bullets played sensationally and during other brief spells lapsed into a bit of ragged play.

Davey Plank's accurate long goal tossing was one of the features of the contest. Six of his goals came from beyond the foul line to make him top scorer with 17 points. Cal Welliver was a close second with 15.

Henry, Mechanicsburg center, was one of the smoothest performers on the court and proved a clever dribbler as well as a good shot. He paced his team with 16 points.

Lead Melts

The Bullets led from start to finish but saw their lead cut to a mere point midway in the second period.

Gettysburg went out in front 15-7 in the first period and then failed to get a single field goal in the second quarter for seven minutes. Meanwhile Henry and Lomax put their team in the running and cut the Bullets' margin to 17-16.

At that stage of the game the Bullets really went to work and in just a few seconds over a minute had pumped five goals through the cords. Plank landed a long toss and Welliver a short one. Plank looped another long one, and then Welliver netted two sensational shots to finish off the Mechanicsburg threat. There was little doubt as to the outcome thereafter.

Lafayette Next

Coach Bream used his entire squad and the scoring still rocketed in the final period.

Saturday the Bullets meet one of their strongest foes at Easton where Lafayette will be met in a Middle Atlantic conference game.

Birthday Nets Paralysis Fund $58 Cash Gift

The treasury of the local Infantile Paralysis committee, sponsoring the party to be held in the Hotel Gettysburg next Wednesday evening, is $58.20 richer today because Nick Meligakes, proprietor of the Plaza restaurant had a birthday yesterday.

To observe his natal anniversary Mr. Meligakes was host at a turkey dinner in his restaurant last evening for his employees. He refused to accept gifts but announced that he would match any amount of money they would donate to the paralysis fund. The employees produced $29.10. This morning Mr. Meligakes gave Treasurer Fred G. Pfeffer a check in the amount of $58.20 to enrich the committee's treasury.

Mr. Meligakes also announced at the birthday party that he had purchased a group insurance policy covering accident and health for his employees. The policy covers the entire bracket of group insurance.

To Attend Exams' Meet In Lewistown

The Pennsylvania eighth grade examinations, in tentative form, have been received by the county school superintendents, and will be discussed, revised and adopted at a meeting of county school superintendents to be held at Lewistown January 30. Dr. Robert A. Bream, assistant superintendent of Adams county schools announced Tuesday.

The January 31 meeting in Lewistown will be an all-day affair, Dr. Bream said. He and Dr. Ralph Scrafford, supervisor of special education, will attend.

Drive Underway On Meter Violations

Gettysburg police Tuesday tagged 22 cars for violations of the parking meter regulations during a check that took the force several times to every meter in town.

Patrolman Albert Wolford and Chief Robert C. Harpster combined Tuesday to find those who failed to deposit coins in the boxes or who had remained too long without renewing their "rent" on the parking place.

Harpster said Wednesday that those tagged would appear shortly before Burgess C. A. Heiges to face the consequence of their failure to use the meters and that the drive on meter violations would continue "until all are convinced that the town council put up the meters in order to correct the town's parking problem, and that the meters must be used. If too many fail to follow the meter regulations then the town parking situation will be back where it was before the meters were installed."

NO ACTION ON JAIL PETITION

No action was taken Wednesday at the regular weekly meeting of the Adams county commissioners on a petition signed by 82 residents of the northern section of Gettysburg protesting the erection of a new county jail on the county farm property a short distance north of the borough limits on the Biglerville road.

The petition was presented to the commissioners by Clarence C. Smith, chief clerk, along with an analysis of the petition and its names, showing the number of property owners, taxpayers, voters, etc., who signed. Action on the petition was deferred until a subsequent meeting of the commissioners, Mr. Smith said.

The petitioners urge that not only do the commissioners locate the jail at some other site, but that the county home be in time moved to another place, to allow for future development of this locality as a residential section.

Present plans call for opening of bids on the new $100,000 jail sometime in March.

High Wind Damages Utility Line Poles

A wind that hit almost gale proportions Saturday morning at 1:30 o'clock tore down several telephone and electric light poles and sent night men scurrying to tie down signs and anything that was loose but apparently did little other damage.

The gusts of wind knocked out three poles of the telephone company along the Orrtanna-Fairfield road, near Fairfield but crews from the company had restored service by mid-morning. The electric power company reported that two poles were blown down near Gettysburg, but that the current was not cut off at any time in that area. The Adams County electric cooperative however said it had suffered no damage from the storm.

Local Hospital Without Butter

Patients and the staff at the Annie M. Warner hospital ate butterless meals Wednesday for the first time in the history of the institution.

During previous butter shortages in the war months the local hospital always managed to secure sufficient butter to serve patients. The supply was low at times but never completely exhausted.

However, the hospital found itself without an ounce of butter on Wednesday. The usual source of supply failed the hospital and butterless meals were served for the first time.

The hospital has sufficient butter to take care of its needs for the present but future outlook is as gloomy as can be. Hospital authorities are hopeful of securing a new supply soon.

There are 56 patients in the hospital, including eight babies.

On Tuesday the hospital housed 69 patients but 19 were discharged during the day.

MAROONS LACE WESTMINSTER QUINTET 49-21

In another one-sided game which saw the Gettysburg high Maroons lead from start to finish, Coach George Forney's lads hung up their sixth victory of the season here Tuesday evening by crushing Westminster 49-21.

The Maroons went ahead 18-3 in the first period, pushed their margin to 33-4 at half time, slowed up considerably in the third quarter to hold a 37-12 lead and then finished up with another scoring spree.

Coach Forney used his entire varsity squad of 14 players with the reserves playing much of the second half.

Shortly after the game opened Raffensperger was fouled and failed to convert but Hess tapped the rebound through for a score. All of the starters broke into the scoring as the Maroons easily punctured the Westminster zone defense.

Lead Soars

A foul by Peregoy was the only score for Westminster in the second period while Gorman boosted the locals' advantage with three goals and a foul. Heintzelman added two twin-pointers with Hess and Raffensperger connecting on single shots.

Gorman and McLaughlin scored Gettysburg's only points in the third period with double-deckers while Westminster gained ground on goals by Greenwood and Byers.

Reserves streamed from the Maroon bench in the fourth quarter to finish off the decisive victory.

Scrubs Victorious

Gorman led the scrubs with a total of 13 points.

Bill Ridinger's reserves scored their third triumph of the season with a 38-14 triumph in the preliminary tilt. Eisenhart's goal tossing gave the scrubs a 15-9 lead at half time. Westerdahl was high with 10 points.
